

I am writing to stress the way that FM station KLOVE has benefited my family. It is uplifting, commercial free and my support of it is a way to minister to those that can't afford to purchase Christian music. This programming is crucial in presenting an alternative to the sometimes degrading and vulgar stations available to our families. I strongly oppose the expansion of LPFM at the expense of such great stations as KLOVE. My support also enables my daughter, who is in the Oklahoma City area attending college, to hear the same music and programming as the rest of the family - a definite plus for communication and togetherness! Thank you for your consideration of my comments. Linda Scott
